The deceiver of the nations discovered; and his cruelly made manifest. And how he hath deceived the nations, and wrought his works of darkness, more hiddenly under the mask of higher power, and holy church; and so persecute the righteous seed, and make them suffer under the name of evil doers, in those latter daies. More especially his cruel works of darkness laid open and reproved in Maryland in Virginia, and the sad sufferings of the servants of the Lord there, by his cruel instruments. After ten years of activity (1901-10) the institute ceased to publish regular reports, the objects for which it was formed having been accomplished; there remained, however, material upon the migration of birds, which it proposed to publish at some future time in the form of a supplement. cf. Glasnik Hrvatskoga naravolovnog društva, god. 24, 1914, Huber, Marie, 1695-1755.

The world unmasked; or, the philosopher the greatest cheat: in twenty-four dialogues between Critio a philosopher, Philo a lawyer, and Erastus a merchant. In which true virtue is distinguished from what usually bears the name or resemblance of it: the many prejudices and mistakes in judgment and practice, in regard to conscience and religion, are examined and rectified ... To which is added, The state of souls separated from their bodies ... in answer to a treatise, entitled, An enquiry into Origenism. Together with a large introduction, evincing the same truth from the principles of natural religion. Translated from the French. London, Printed for A. Millar, 1736.

The authorship of the original treatise, by contemporary writers ascribed to B. L. de Muralt, was revealed in the third edition of the Annales Littéraires sur la religion censurée à l'homme, published after her death by her parents (London, 1756). It was, however, believed in Geneva, that Muralt had some share in her books. Cf. R. Rötter, B. L. de Muralt in Zeitschrift f. neufranz. sprache u. literatur, 3. band (1902), p. 187. F. V. Römle, Histoire littéraire de la Suisse romande, 1. u. 1901, p. 30-47. Quoted, La France littéraire, 2. nouvelle. Hist. litt. des lettres, III (1781), p. 84-85. The assumption that B. de Mandeville wrote the present work is without foundation. 1. Religion. 2. Virtue. 3. Future life. 4. Deism. 5. Rousset, Abraham, 1675-1770. Hubert, Robert.

A catalogue of part of those rarities collected in thirty years time with a great deal of pains and industry, by one of His Majesties sworn servants. R. H. alias Forges, gentleman. They are to be seen at the place formerly called the Musique-house at the west end of Pauls.
(n. p. 1916f.)
2 p. l. 33 p. 15p.

The first edition was published in London in 1664 with title: A catalogue of many natural rarities ... collected by R. Hubert alias Forges. Another edition (14 p.) appeared about 1670 (cf. Lowndes, Bibliographer's manual; Granger, Trésor de livres). The work in hand appears to be a reprint of this later edition. A note (signed David Murray) on the preface leaf states that the late Prof. John Forges had this rare tract reprinted shortly before his death.

Report of the governor and committee of the Hudson's Bay company, to be laid before the shareholders, Nov. 24, 1863.
London, 1863.

1. Maps, tables. 21" (Nov. 1863-June 1865, 344")
Title varies slightly.
The report for Nov. 24, 1863 was the first one issued after the reorganization of the company in 1862; from that date until Dec. 14, 1865, reports were published semiannually for presentation at the meeting of June or July (containing the annual account) and Nov. or Dec. (containing a brief statement of the affairs of the society); since 1862 they have been published annually, for presentation at the meeting of June, July or August.

(Card 2) ... Lake levels ... 1928.

"The original bill was filed by the state of Wisconsin on July 14, 1922. The bill sought an injunction against the diversion of water from Lake Michigan through the Sanitary and ship canal, which extends from the Chicago river to the Lake Michigan river ... On October 5, 1922, by leave of the court the state of Wisconsin became complainant and the state of Minnesota, Ohio, and Pennsylvania became defendants. The amended bill, like the original, alleged that the diversion at Chicago had caused a lowering of the level of Lake Michigan, Huron, Erie, and Ontario."—p. 2

... vs. State of Illinois ... (1928). (Card 2)

In the Supreme court of the United States. October term, 1927.

Charles E. Hughes, special master.

The original bill was filed by the state of Wisconsin on July 14, 1922. The bill sought an injunction against the diversion of water from Lake Michigan through the Sanitary and ship canal, which extends from the Chicago river to the Des Plaines river ... On October 2, 1922, by leave of court, the state of Wisconsin filed an amended bill, and the state of Minnesota, Ohio and Pennsylvania became co-complainants. The amended bill, like the original, alleged that the diversion at Chicago had caused a lowering of the level of lakes Michigan, Huron, Erie and Ontario ... p. 5-6.
